Good News: Marty White, GPOA Board Member, just informed us that our roads will be watered and graded on July 9, 10, and 11th. Efforts continue to firm up prices for various options for improved road maintenance. These figures are to be presented to the GPOA Board and then to the community for the 2011 assessment.

Reminder: If you see a fire at or near Goldfield Ranch, or you recognize any security issues here, please remember to call one of the 6 people who are authorized to send out a message to the community through our OneCallNow system. Keep their names and phone numbers handy so when there is an emergency you are not scrambling to figure out who to call. (Concern about the recent Sycamore fire revealed that some folks were still reaching for their old obsolete phone tree.)

Recycling of Aluminum cans: A reminder to anyone who is interested, Jan Roedel facilitates the donations of aluminum cans to a Veterans organization through one of her friends. If you are interested, e-mail her at jroedel7@gmail.com. She always sends out e-mail reminders to participants when the next recycling day is near, and then if you have a bag of cans, you just drop them off.

Rattlesnakes: This spring Karl Mann was counting GR rattlesnakes. By the end of April he had reports of over 30 rattlesnakes out here. By now most of us have probably seen one or two. Rattle snakes are looking for a cool place to be during the heat of the day so be careful where you walk and where you put your hands!
